Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest, safest and really, in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."

This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

We have a complete stock of everything in this line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs in chandeliers

JOURNALISTS IN JAPAN

of the great progress our country has made during the past quarter of a century in every branch of civilization, and I am sure those gentlemen who visit our country came back favorably impressed.

"And I have the greatest pleasure to say that when I go away from here I shall carry with me the most pleasant recollection of the 'Paradise of the Pacific,' especially the kindness of the gentlemen present.

"It has always been my humble and sincere wish to promote the universal peace and prosperity.

"And you may imagine my satisfaction of meeting you gentlemen representing so many different nationalities, which I consider is a step toward the realization of my wishes.

Gentlemen, again I thank you for your kindness."

Following is a list of the toasts proposed by Alatau T. Atkinson, toastmaster:

The Emperor of Japan.
The President of the Republic of Hawaii.

Our Guests—Councillor Akiyama.
The Occasion—Wallace R. Farrington.

Journalism in the Orient—Y. Ishikawa.

The Editor—Edmund Norrie.
The Business Manager—Frank L. Hoogs.

The Reporter—James T. Stacker.
The Press—D. Logan.

Hawaiian Press—J. M. Poepoe.
Portuguese Press of Hawaii—J. M. Vivas.

Japanese Press of Hawaii—C. Shiozawa.
Chinese Press of Hawaii—Luke Chan.

The Japanese Correspondent—S. Furuya.
The American Correspondent—Jos. L. Travis.

All were replied to with much spirit and friendly feeling. To Mr. Farrington fell the oratorical honors of the evening. Japanese Correspondent Furuya spoke very cleverly in the English language. Daniel Logan talked entertainingly about "The Press." He closed his remarks by extending "Aloha Nui" to the Honolulu Press representatives.

Messrs. Finney, Adams, and H. M. Whitney were called upon for remarks after the regular toasts had been given. They responded cheerfully.

HIS LITTLE LIST.

He Was a Tired Looking Man and Wanted to Save His Lungs.

The other day a thin, tired looking man entered a printing office and approaching the proprietor said:

"I want to have a list printed. Suppose you write it down as I tell you."

The proprietor made ready, and the man said:

"Yes, I'm sure I locked the front door. Have you got that?"

"Yes, but I don't understand."

"Never mind. Don't interrupt me till I have finished. Are you ready? All right then, I turned out the gas in the bathroom."

"Well?"

"The kitchen windows are fastened."

"Yes."

"The dog is in the cellar. The servants are all in. The stable door is locked. The cat is out of doors. I turned out the drafts of the range. No, I do not smell smoke. I do not think I hear any one trying to get into the house. No, that is not our dog barking. It's the one next door. It's not necessary to go down and see if the cellar door is fastened. I know it is. That is nobody—it is only the wind rattling the shutters."

"Is there anything more?"

"Well, I think that's about all. You see, my wife asks me certain questions every night just as I am getting into bed, and if I had a printed list I could show it to her. It would save lots of trouble. Besides that, it injures my lungs to answer them. Have the lists printed as soon as possible, please."—New York Journal.

BEST REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

From the Fairhaven (N. Y.) Register.

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she has used ever did her as much good. For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.
